August 2020

Students and families,

Welcome to the 2020-21 School Year. I hope everyone is safe and well and excited for a new school year. The beginning of this year is unlike any year we have encountered but I am excited for our students to get back into the classroom, although virtually, to begin the semester. ECR will start the year distance learning, where students will access the curriculum online from home. Online learning is not the same as in-person, but we have made sure that our technology can provide an educational opportunity reasonably close to what you expect from ECR each year. COVID-19 has changed all our lives in ways unimaginable, but we are committed to provide a variety of resources and methodologies to support our students and their families.

Other societal dynamics have changed the way many of us look at the world around us. The death of George Floyd and many others led to a wave of protests that made us look inwards and at the systems that we continue to propagate. ECR is committed in providing a diverse and equitable educational experience for all our students. We will continue to listen and work with students, parents, families, and staff to address the difficult subjects that need our attention.

I know there are many questions that may be unanswered, but we are here to help alleviate any worries and answer any questions that you might have. The staff will continue their efforts to get through this pandemic as best as possible. ECR is committed to support you in the work that will be accomplished this year. Stay safe and hope to see you soon.

Greatly appreciative,

David Hussey
Executive Director

The Mission of ECRCHS is to prepare our diverse student body for the next phase of their educational, professional, and personal journey through a rigorous, customized academic program that inspires the development of students’ unique talents and skills, builds character, and provides opportunities for civic engagement and real-world experiences.
